Can state government entities “count” as local governments in places where they directly provide locally-focused services?

We understand that in some situations, state government entities (and other entities as well) may functionally serve in the role of local governments and provide county or municipal-level services that local governments provide in other states. This is understood and acceptable. However, we ask that this information and rationale are clearly described in the application.

What are some other organizations that could be part of a proposed team?

Other organizations that could be part of proposed teams include (but are not limited to):

- Local branches of national, community organizations
- Other community-based organizations
- Other local government entities
- Local foundations
- Organizations specializing in community data
- Colleges and universities
- Businesses

Are there supports in place for small non-profits to act as lead organizations?

Ensuring that eligible non-profits are poised to successfully administer awards, regardless of size, is important to us.

We will provide the level of support needed to ensure awardees are successful and we acknowledge that the level of support needed may vary among awardees.

Does our team need to have data sharing agreements in place by the time we submit our application?

The strongest applications will have data sharing agreements in place before submission.

Can we vet our ideas through you before applying?

While we will be unable to provide detailed feedback to Phase 1 applicants, we will answer all email inquiries we receive as quickly as possible, and we are happy to answer specific questions about proposed initiatives.
